MEDIA RELEASE

The CoP is attending IACP in Chicago; US President to bring Address

Commissioner of Police Gary Griffith is currently attending the International Association of Commissioners of Chiefs of Police (IACP) Annual Conference and Exposition. He was invited by the US Embassy and CoP Griffith accepted. The conference is taking place at McCormick Place West-Skyline Ballroom, in Chicago, USA.

Commissioner Griffith's attendance forms part of ongoing efforts to ensure that the Trinidad and Tobago Police Service (TTPS) adheres to international best practices and policies in law enforcement.

This conference has brought together, Commissioners of Police, industry leaders, and other law enforcement personnel from various countries. This forum also encourages discourse while showcasing new strategies, techniques, resources, and products to assist in effectively managing an ever-changing policing environment.

President of the United States, Donald J. Trump will deliver the feature address on Monday, October 28th, 2019 at 3:00pm.

The IACP takes place annually and is a significant event for law enforcement personnel and agencies globally. This conference and exposition exposes law enforcement to new techniques and encourages networking among attendees toward assisting law enforcement in tailoring their own strategies specific to their countries.

The four-day conference will conclude on Tuesday, October 29th, 2019.
